Civic Chorus Sings Messiah

The Appomattox Civic Chorus, above, marked its first anniversary Sunday evening as they presented portions of Handel's "Messiah" in the Appomattox High School auditorium. Organized in the fall of 1963, the Chorus under Rev. Thomas A. Waddill's direction sang portions of the "Messiah" during the 1963 Christmas season. Since that time they have sung many times in this area, the latest presentation being the "Messiah" sung here and in Brookneal. The Chorus now is thinking of the forthcoming Centennial Commemoration, with planning underway for a concert of music known and sung 100 years ago.

The All-American Dream Backfield

I salute the fine Christmas decoration in front of our County Library, and I commend the fine books inside.

This is being written on the 20th Anniversary of the decisive Battle of The Bulge in World War II, as Hitler's desperate all-out offensive was met and blunted and defeated. Shame upon the pun, but for many, the Battle of The Bulge continues . . . and all the fine Christmas meals won't help waist-line watchers. So what . . . let us go for the all-out Christmas servings and there is no injunction against second helpings. Pass them bisuits! Some of everything: Soup, oysters, turkey, ham, roast beef, gravy and lots of it on those sweet potatoes, hominy, cranberry sauce, some extra salad dressing, cheese on that apple pie, plum pudding . . . the works, all right . . . but before you eat it, bow your head and say, Lord Jesus, Thou has blessed our America and we are free and strong, thou has blessed our family and each one of us can feel virtuous and, Lord Jesus we have sought to share all this with our friends and less fortunate people everywhere, and Lord Jesus, most of all we want to THANK YOU for that all may know that not Hate but Love is the Message of Christmas. Amen.

South Carolina.

Dr. Babcock was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Kappa Alpha, Omricon Delta Kappa. He had been president of The Isaac Walton League of South Carolina and a director of the National Wildlife Federation. He was an avid plant pathologist, whose experiments provided new knowledge in the field of vegetable growth and disease control. He led campaigns to control water pollution and to develop South Carolina wildlife resources. One of his frequent hunting companions was the famed Bernard Baruch, as was Senator Strom Thurmond. He wrote the textbook for his vocabulary-building course, English 129.

As an example of his sustained interest in Appomattox, on a visit here in 1939 he arranged a meeting at Hotel Appomattox of local citizens which led to the formation of the Appomattox Lions Club.

His love for teaching, writing and the great outdoors was matched by the warmth of his personality and his accomplishment in a wide field of endeavor. Was equalled only by his modesty and humility and the finest attributes of a Virginia Gentleman
